

SWIFTWATER CELLARS

Can we reserve firepits?

We are no longer seating firepits, all of our tables are near heating, and tables have been moved closer to firepits to maximize our seating.

Are there heaters?

While we have heaters in the beams, they do not directly hit every table, or all the tables. We have done our best to purchase what we can to get through this time, but like all hospitality industry, we are suffering many financial losses.

How many can sit at our table?

By mandate regulations, we can only have 6 ppl per table. We encourage you to get our family style to go meals if you have larger groups. It's a better experience for everyone. We will not make reservations for more than 2 tables for any party. (12 total).

Is it cold outside?

We are in the mountains; it snows here at these elevations more than in your city most likely. Please plan accordingly. Dress like you are hitting a skiing hill. Check weather reports leading up to your reservation for the most detailed information.

Do I have to bring a mask?

Yes, you are required to enter our building with a mask. Also, anytime you leave your table, we require you to wear a mask. Its also helpful to keep you warm.

Can we sit inside?

We are not seating any tables inside. Washington state guidelines require outside spaces to have no more than two walls, or if a third wall is there, that the outside air is able to flow. We are using our garden room and cantina with doors open as well.

Do we need reservations?

We have 30 tables which is vastly different than what we are used to. Spaces do fill up quickly. We have turned off reservations from OpenTable and are requiring all to call or email us for reservations.

Do you have full menu and wine tasting?

Our lunch menu is more limited to what we call our "all day menu" and our dinner menu is still the full dinner menu. You can wine taste with reservations while you enjoy lunch or dinner.

We thank you for supporting us, we are doing everything we can during these difficult times and appreciate your patience and cooperation while we navigate every change to our business.
